Rare maps, books and prints

Our illustrated catalogue contains scholarly descriptions of our stock of original 15th-19th century maps, prints and books. Send four dollars for new issue.

We are interested in purchasing fine single items and collections.

All transactions are handled with discretion.

Full paper restoration services are available.

CONSERVATION AND RESTORATION SERVICES

Our conservation and restoration facilities for all works of art on paper, including globes, will now be offered to our customers at a reasonable cost. Many rare maps and prints are slowly being destroyed by acids introduced at the time of manufacture of the paper or from acids present in old backing and framing materials. Our conservation services neutralize the acids present in the paper and also protect the paper from any future acidity acquired by aging. Besides deacidification we offer the following professional conservation and restoration services:

- Removal of all types of backings
- Removal of foxing and waterstains
- Resizing
- Removal of creases
- Repair of tears
- Strengthening of weak paper by backing
- Removal of varnish
- Lightening excessive time toning
- Remargining
- Insertion of missing printed surface
- Restoration of color

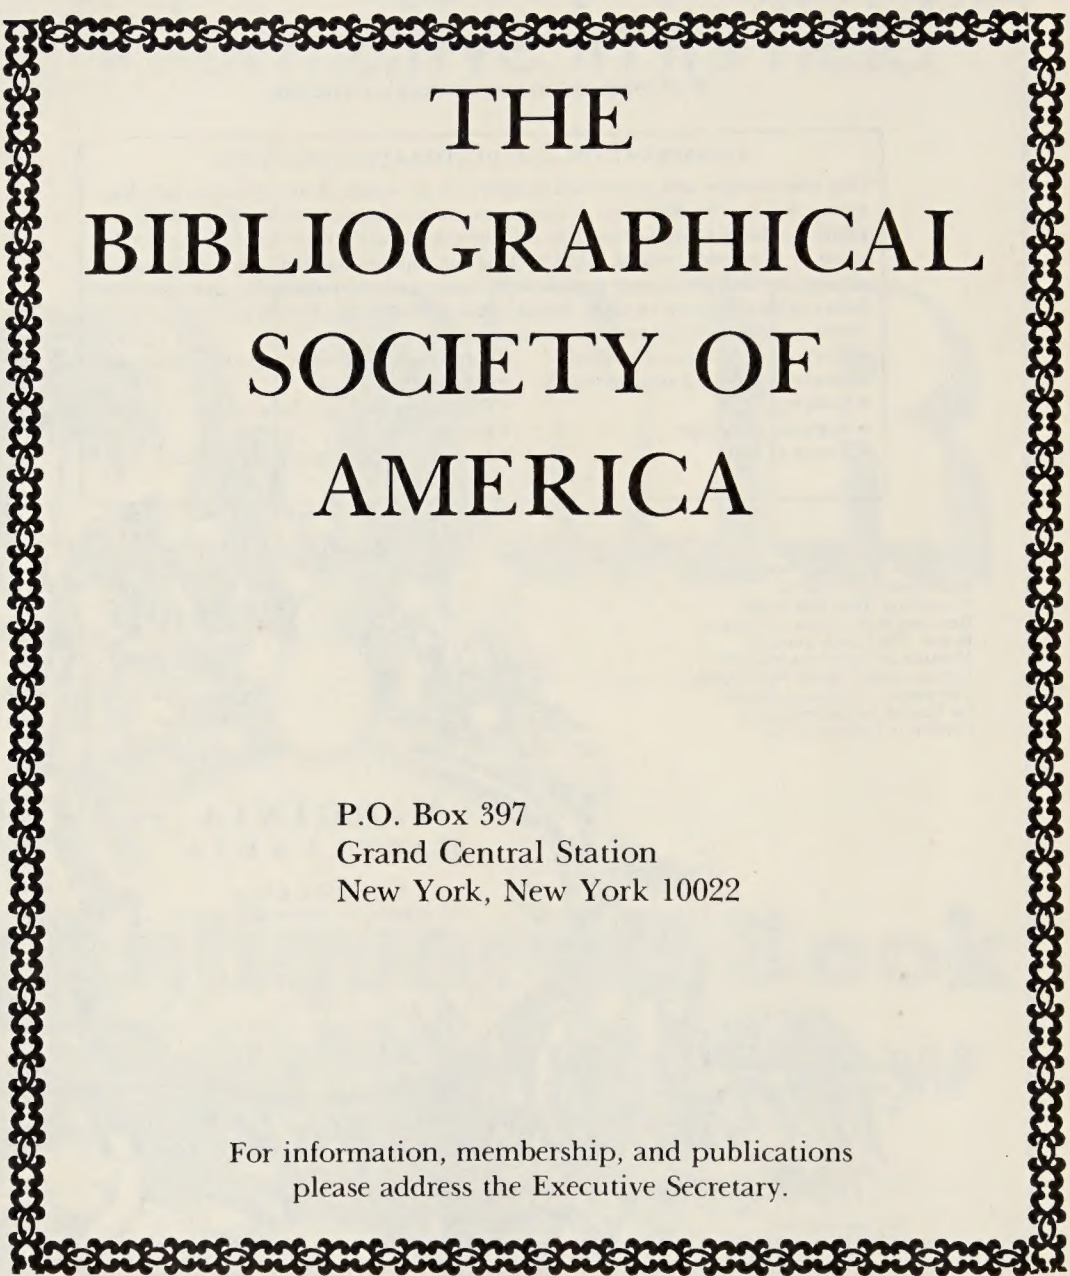

Joh. Bapt. Homann, "Virginia, Marylandia, et Carolina." Nuremberg, 1714. 19½ x 22¾. Resulting from studies of French, British, and Dutch sources, Homann produced this map for German settlers in the New World. The baroque cartouche depicts the English ascendancy amid symbols of bounteousness.

Book Collecting A Modern Guide

Edited by Jean Peters, *Librarian of the
R. R. Bowker Company's Frederic G. Melcher Library*

How has book collecting changed in recent years?

What makes a book rare?

How can a sound knowledge of descriptive bibliography be of value to a book collector?

How can a collector avoid the pitfalls of buying at auction?

What environmental conditions are required for the care and preservation of books and manuscripts?

How can you detect fakes?

What steps can you take to cut the cost of getting your collection appraised?

These questions and more are answered in twelve engrossing and informative essays by noted book collectors, curators, and scholars in Book Collecting: A Modern Guide.

This volume covers the whole spectrum of book collecting. It suggests the directories and periodicals to use for information on book dealers, how to prevent such accidental damage as "knifing," and how to shelve books when space is limited. And you will find lists of auction houses, recommended suppliers, bibliographical societies, and other organizations and services of interest to book collectors.

Book collectors, antiquarian book dealers, booksellers, and everyone who collects books will welcome *Book Collecting:
A Modern Guide*. It is a unique and vital contribution to a fascinating field.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Volume 84 of American Book Prices Current has been prepared by a team of editors highly experienced in the field of rare books and manuscripts. As its users know, ABPC is not just a transcribed record of titles and prices, copied unquestioningly from the season's auction catalogues. It is, on the contrary, the only work in English in which every listing of printed material has been checked as to title, format, date of publication, edition, and limitations. Bindings are described, with condition when relevant, and whenever possible maps and plates in books are verified. Moreover, sales of autographs and manuscripts are reported. Because of this, ABPC is an essential tool for buying, selling and evaluating books, serials, autographs, manuscripts, broadsides, and maps, based on actual figures realized at auction. In the words of a reviewer in The Times Literary Supplement, it is "an accurate, indispensable tool for the antiquarian bookseller and collector." And, in addition to meeting the need for a dependable guide in determining the value of old and out-of-print books, ABPC serves as a reference work and as an aid to scholars in locating printed works and manuscripts of all centuries, from the earliest years to the present.

American Book Prices Current is composed of two parts. Part I, Books, includes broadsides, single-sheet printings, maps and charts, and uncorrected proof copies of books. Part II, Autographs & Manuscripts, includes original illustrations for printed books, documents, letters, typescripts, corrected proofs, signed photographs, and signatures, as well as manuscripts.

Entries are listed alphabetically by author whenever possible, by title when the author's name is unknown, or by Private Press and Club, printer, or publisher headings if such are the associations which attract the collector. In general, illustrated books are listed under the author of the text. Subject headings such as England, Maps & Charts, Hebrew Books, Miniature Books, and Fore-Edge Paintings, or those for individual U.S. states or cities have also been used. Individual works are in turn listed alphabetically under each heading and include: title; place & date of publication; edition designation; number of volumes, when more than one; size, binding, and condition of binding; descriptive material, limitation notes, and the sale record—auction house (in code), date or number of sale, lot number, price, and purchaser (buyers' names are given when and as listed in price lists). There are cross-references to Club or Press books, to books bound together, and to books by more than one author.

Volume 84 lists only those books and manuscripts which sold for at least $20 or its equivalent in another currency. In keeping with previous editorial policy, auction lots consisting of groupings of miscellaneous volumes are not listed, for the prices realized by such lots can give no accurate indication of the value of individual items. Similarly, listings of badly broken runs or seriously incomplete sets of printed books do not appear. Listings of books in non-Western languages realizing less than $100 have been selectively excluded, as have such peripheral works as printings of musical scores, collections of plates, and panoramas.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Listings of 20th-century books frequently appear without format or binding information. In such instances it may be assumed that these books are octavo or duodecimo and bound in cloth. It has been the practice not to include such information for books published after 1900.

Our most particular thanks are due Caroline Schimmel, Stephen Paul Davis, Jane Mallison, and Abigail E. Leab. The Book Department at Sotheby's, O. S. Snelling at Hodgson's Rooms, and Jeremy Rex-Parkes at Christie's made special efforts on our behalf, for which we are grateful. Anthony Payne of Christie's South Kensington hand-priced some of their catalogues for us not once but twice—a heroic and generous act.

Currency

The highs and lows of other currencies in the 1976-77 auction season expressed in terms of the value of one American Dollar were as follows: Canadian Dollar, 1.07 to 1.14; French Franc, 4.88 to 4.34; Dutch Florin, 2.44 to 2.13; Hong Kong Dollar, 4.72 to 4.59; Italian Lira, 882 to 832; and South African Rand, .87 to .86. The Pound Sterling ranged between $1.74 and $1.96, while the Australian Dollar varied from $1.10 to $1.17. Please note that these figures are meant as somewhat simplified approximations of the currency fluctuations throughout the period, designed to give our readers a good, clear idea of these fluctuations, but not an absolutely precise bank rate.

Buyers' Surcharges

The following buyers' surcharges should be noted: In Holland 16% and 10 cents per item; in France 16% up to F6,000, 11.5% up to F20,000, 10% above F20,000; in England 10% at Sotheby's, Christie's and Bonham's, but no surcharge at Phillips; in the United States of America 10% at Christie's only. The prices in ABPC are given as in the price lists of the various auction houses, that is, without the buyers' surcharges. The single exception to this pricing practice is Christie's in New York; accordingly, we have rendered their prices without the surcharge to make them conform to world practice.

THE AUCTION SEASON

Volume 84 of American Book Prices Current reports the auction season from September 1977 to August 1978. Included are sales at the leading auction houses in New York, London, Amsterdam, Edinburgh, Hong Kong, Johannesburg, Los Angeles, Melbourne, Paris, Rome, Utrecht, Montreal, Baltimore, Bath, Leeds, Philadelphia, and San Francisco. This volume contains more than 35,000 entries from 258 sales (that's 48 more sales covered than in Volume 83 and over 100 more sales covered than in the 1971 volume, with which we assumed publication of ABPC).

New symbols make their appearances in our sales records with the inclusion of Aldridge's of Bath (ab) and of van Gendt (vG) in Amsterdam. We also have reached further into the Christie's and Sotheby's networks to include books sold in, say, Hong Kong or at the Brighton and Hove Engineerium.

For the auction world in general, this was the year of von Hirsch. In a series of sales on 20-27 June 1978 Sotheby's sold the Robert von Hirsch collection of paintings and other fine art objects for £18,468,347. Fittingly enough for the realm of books, the first lot in the first session at Sotheby's on 20 June was a medieval artist's pattern sheet, "possibly recovered from a binding." The cynosure of all eyes (and never have more human or camera eyes been present in a single saleroom) was none other than H. P. Kraus, who purchased Lot 1 of the von Hirsch sale and 4 more of the medieval miniatures which composed the first 7 lots of the sale.

The von Hirsch set of Doves Press books was sold apart from the Bond Street sales, as lots 1-51 of the 22 June session in Hodgson's Rooms. Here one of 2 copies on vellum of the Doves English Bible went for an almost incomprehensible £62,000 and one of 3 vellum copies of Milton's Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained, with gold initials by Edward Johnson and Graily Hewitt, sold at £22,000. An odd feature of this sale was the group of 9 "retree" copies, a term entirely unknown to us. These books were made up of extra (rejected for sale but kept in inventory?) sheets of vellum and, with one possible exception, were specially bound in 1921, at least some of them for presentation to Cobden-Sanderson's beloved Annie. The books are: Catalogue Raisonne 1900-1916, 1916 (£3,200); Goethe, Auserlesene Lieder, Gedichte und Balladen, 1916 (£900); Goethe, Faust, 1906-10 (£3,800); Mackail, William Morris, an Address, 1901 (£1,500); Milton, Areopagitica, 1907 (£1,600); Pervigilium Veneris, 1910 (£950); Tacitus, De Vita et Moribus Julii Agricolaes Liber, Tennyson, Seven Poems and Two Translations, 1901 (£1,600); and Winship, William Caxton, 1909 (£1,600). We'd love to know more about both the term "retree" and these particular copies.

Another sort of mystery surrounds von Hirsch's fine collection of French 19th-century books. For reasons not apparent to us, these books sold not in London but in Paris, at the Hotel Drouot on 12-13 June under the auspices of Ader, Picard, Tajan. In addition to von Hirsch's noted Balzac collection and some really excellent bindings (which Anthony Hobson remembers being sent to see in the late 1940s), this sale contained some remarkable association copies. One could choose among such books as Baudelaire's Les Fleurs du Mal, 1857, one of 20 on Holland, inscribed to Michel Levy (F80,000); Flaubert's L'Education Sentimentale, 1870, inscribed to Paul de Saint-Victor (F32,000); Gide's Amyntas, 1906, one of 350, inscribed to Rilke (F6,000); Hugo's Notre-Dame de Paris, 1832, 3 vols, in wonderful contemporary bindings and inscribed to Mlle. Georges (F46,000); Mallarme's Les Mots Anglais [1878], inscribed to Verlaine (F10,000); Maupassant's Contes de la Becasse, 1883, inscribed to Zola (F9,500); Verlaine's Fetes Galantes, 1869, inscribed to Theodore de Banville (F13,000); Vigny's La Bouteille a la Mer, 1854, inscribed to Louis Ratisbonne (F29,000) or the presentation copy for Mme. Dorval of Servitude et Grandeur Militaires, 1835, that Vigny had bound for her by Spachman (F82,000).

Although it may seem logical to sell French books or autographs in France, as in the von Hirsch sale, this was the year in which political worries overcame traditional logic, with the result that more books and autographs of French origin sold in New York and London than has been the case since World War II. And, at least as long as money flows remain relatively unregulated, we can expect many more Continental items and collections to move west for sale. Like it or not, international economics and politics play an ever greater role in the shaping of the antiquarian book marketplace. While we're musing on the moving finger and its writings, perhaps we should share with our readers the following profundity from a Harris Auction Galleries catalogue: "When you move, please allow 6 weeks for change to take effect."

But then what's to be expected of a season in which Sotheby's sold Emanuel Swedenborg's skull (6 March 1978, Lot 271). The knowledge that "the skull which now accompanies Swedenborg's skeleton in Upsala Cathedral is a substitution" makes one wonder what poor Yorick lost his head for the sake of putative completeness, who pinched the genuine and original skull in the first place, and how did it get to be "The Property of a Lady?" Finally, where is the jawbone? Can we expect it at a later sale?

If Swedenborg's skull and Burns's breakfast table (£2,500 at Sotheby's on 25 July) were the oddities of the London season, the Broxborne and Evelyn sales were among its points of greatest interest. The sale of the Evelyn library, begun last season, continued as Christie's presented the second, third, and fourth (last) parts on November 30-December 1, March 16, and July 12-13. The dispersal of this library leaves us more mystified than ever as to the nature of so-called national treasures in England and why all sorts of Grand Tour plunder of non-English origin seem to qualify for designation as national treasures while basic components of traditional England do not. In the case of the Evelyn library at least we can be grateful for Christie's efforts to produce precise catalogues under rather trying circumstances—even when it meant that the Evelyn copy of Lovelace's Lucasta (lot 919) £5,800) was subsumed under the entry heading for Martin Llewellyn's Men-Miracles because the Lovelace came second when the two works were bound together for Evelyn.

In addition to a fine copy of Descartes' Discours de la methode, 1637 (£8,000), our favorites in Part II included Evelyn's copy of Freart's Parallele de l'architecture antique et de la moderne, 1650, for £2,400. Evelyn later translated this work—indeed, one could buy his large-paper copy of his own translation, 1664, in Part IV of the sale for £3,200. Part III boasted Evelyn's annotated set of the Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society, 1665-1704, nos 1-289 (lacking nos 139 & 141) at £26,000 and his copy of Naude's Bibliothecae cordesianae catalogus, 1643, with Evelyn's note at the end of the index titulorum explaining his markings throughout the volume with reference to the importance and relevance of authors and editions, at £2,600. This part even contained a pilfered book, Evelyn's copy of Milton's Poems, 1645, which was "stolen by William Upcott in 1817, repurchased by W. J. Evelyn from Bernard Quaritch in 1894" and which in 1978 fetched £5,800. Part IV was most interesting for its books by or translated by Evelyn. These ranged from the again-timely Fumifugium of 1661 (£1,800) through the annotated copy of Philosophical Discourse of Earth, 1676, that he used to prepare the second edition of same (£2,600) to the presentation copy to Clarendon of Numismata, 1697, with the errata corrected in Evelyn's hand (£1,700). A presentation copy to Sir Edmund Bowyer of the first edition of Sylva, 1664, brought £1,700, while Evelyn's annotated copy of Sculptura, 1662, the first book printed in England to contain a mezzotint, sold at a whopping £7,500.

The Broxbourne Library sales at Sotheby's on 14-15 November and 8-9 May contained only a fraction of the books collected by the late Albert Ehrman to satisfy his "interest, which soon became fervent, in all that related to the invention of printing" Even after Mr. Ehrman's extensive gifts to the Bodleian Library and Mr. John Ehrman's gifts to the British, Cambridge University, and John Rylands libraries, there remained for these sales no fewer than 252 incunables, including the first books printed at Albi, Augsburg, Deventer, Dijon, Forli, Frieberg-im-Sachsen, Geneva, Grenoble, Heidelberg, Metz, Mondovi, Offenbergh, Poschiavo, Rostock, Scandiano, Verona and Zwolle. And when one considers that the remainder of the works composing the 698 lots are 16th-century books, it is hardly surprising that the Broxbourne sales totalled £1,297,055. The star of the November sessions was a German block-book Apocalypse, probably before 1470, which had gone for £6,800 at the Dyson Perrins sale in 1947. This time it went to the inevitable Mr. Kraus for £180,000. Another Dyson Perrins copy, of the Kalender "Es spricht der Meyster Almansor," Augsburg, 1481, which brought £580 in 1947, now went for £16,000 to that other inevitability, Bernard Breslauer. Other rare and expensive incunables included the earliest extant Latin edition of Saint Bridgit's Revelationes (Luebeck, 1492, £38,000) and the Cologne, c.1472, edition of the De Proprietatibus rerum of Bartholomaeus Anglicus (£34,000). Similarly, the May sessions featured such wonders as the De re militari of Robertus Valturius (Verona, 1472, £35,000); the Nitzschewitz Novum Beate Marie Virgis Psalterium (c.1493-96, £32,000), the only book known to have been printed at the press of the Cistercian monastery at Zinna; and the Lascaris Erotemata (Milan, 1476, £26,000), the first book printed throughout in Greek. And thanks be to Sotheby's for the back matter in Volume II of the Broxbourne catalogue, with listings of gifts and sales to libraries of works from this portion of the Ehrman collection; author and short-title index; index of printers; index of Hain-Copinger-Reichling numbers; and index of provenance.

And what of America? Well, it used to be said that America had sales of books but that London had a season. This year saw the situation reversed, with London having some interesting sales but with New York having the more interesting season. Swann Galleries held sales almost every week until the summer, with some interesting collections and theme sales among them. Parke Bernet averaged a sale a month, covering the higher price ranges in almost every category of collecting. Had you wanted a copy of Pigafetta's Le Voyage et Navigation Faict par les Espaignol es Isles de Molucques, c.1525, it could have been yours on 6 December for $130,000. At other sales you could have picked up a copy of Copernicus's De Revolutionibus for $43,000 or a set of Signers of the Declaration of Independence for $195,000. And books in every category traditionally labeled "impossible to sell in America—send to London" were sold successfully in New York, from French books notable for their bindings to illuminated manuscripts. Historical Americana also emerged from something of a depression this year. All it took was one really fine sale of American autographs and manuscripts, Part I of the Sang collection, 325 lots for $1,425,945.

Christie's in New York held their first full season ever—with sales on 21 October, 18 November and 7 April. Their offerings ranged from a 15th-century French Book of Hours ($48,000) and a Martin Luther letter ($16,000) through the Beinecke copy of the double elephant folio of Audubon's Birds of America ($360,000) to nothing less than the General Theological Seminary copy of the Gutenberg Bible. The Bible sale was thoughtfully timed to coincide with the ABAA dinner in New York and the opening of an antiquarian book fair, thereby enabling many bookmen to attend who otherwise might not have been able to do so and also shedding the rosy glow of publicity over all antiquarian book activities at the time of its sale. The GTS copy of the world's most famous book even got a thorough examination from John Kebabian and Roland Folter of H. P. Kraus which resulted in the discovery that Folio 279 verso also appears on Folio 272 verso and that the text which belongs on Folio 272 verso does not appear in the GTS copy. How many times had this copy been collated in the alleged "days when experts knew something" without anybody noticing this unique error? The GTS Gutenberg sold to Bernard Breslauer, acting on behalf of the Baden-Wurttemberg State Museum in Stuttgart, for $2 million plus $200,000 buyer's surcharge. A few years ago no international auction house would have allowed the sale of a Gutenberg Bible to take place in New York rather than London. But now New York has come of age and enjoys competition among auction houses that borders on the friendliest sort of total war. In the coming season Phillips will add a book department and Hamilton will adopt the buyer's surcharge policy. The competition has been and continues to be so lively that even the Cassandras of the antiquarian book market have given up prophecy, at least temporarily, in favor of behavior more appropriate to sports fans, enjoying the arena and cheering on their favorite teams.
